After Dealing with a year of the Covid-19 Pandemic, we are all, on some level, what Henri Nouwen referred to as Wounded Healers.

Seeking Peace and Healing for a Weary World

Jesus said to them, "Surely you will quote this proverb to me: 'Physician, heal yourself!' And you will tell me, 'Do here in your hometown what we have heard that you did in Capernaum.'" Luke 4:23

HERE
WE COME!

“To Discern and Prepare our Community for the future”

The purpose of the workshop is to build up and inspire Leaders in Southern Virginia’s Cursillo Ministry so that it can remain Viable for the future. All those who have attended Cursillo are welcome.

The ECLW Team will not be telling us how to “fix things” or how to “get it right”. Instead, they will be offering us the opportunity to consider and discuss successful ways and things to try that we may find helpful. The hope is that we will be inspired to take a fresh look at our ministry and our pastoral plan.

“Leaders” does not mean Secretariat members or weekend Rectors. But let’s face a bit of reality. Our movement is struggling. We do not say this lightly. If Cursillo in So. Va. continues on the same path of decline, there is little hope of it remaining viable even to the end of this decade.

Your Secretariat has reached out to the National Cursillo Ministry for help, and it is our prayer that a number of us will hear God’s call to lead and serve Cursillo in The Diocese of Southern Virginia. and that this workshop will inspire us to act for Christ in this ministry.

The Ideal should not keep us from accepting the real but the real should NEVER keep us from striving for the Ideal. *from the ECLW handbook
